The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) and Common Reporting Standard (CRS) are regulatory requirements that aim to deter tax evasion by US and other foreign taxpayers. The Australian and a number of other foreign Governments have an agreement which requires us to obtain certain information from investors, including taxation information. You may be liable to a penalty if you provide information that is false or misleading that is material. We may decide not to open an account without first receiving the required information. For more information, visit www.ato.gov.au.

If you are unsure of any of the answers, please contact a legal or accounting professional.

HELP

Tell me about tax residence

You can be a resident of more than one country for tax purposes. Whether you are tax resident of a particular country for tax purposes is often based on the amount of time you spend in a country and the location of your residence and/or place of work. If you pay tax or have a tax liability somewhere, you are probably a tax resident there. Dual citizenship often brings dual tax residency. It depends on the country. For the US, tax residency can be as a result of citizenship or residency for tax purposes.

If you're unsure, ask someone who knows, usually your accountant.

You will be a passive NFE if you are not an active NFE.

Generally, you will be an active NFE if:

- your stock (or a related entity's stock) is regularly traded on established securities market less than 50% of your gross income for the previous reporting period was passive income and less than 50% of your assets during that period produce or were held to produce passive income.
- you are a Governmental entity, an international organisation, a central bank or an entity wholly owned by one of the above.
- you are exempt from income tax in your residential jurisdiction and were established and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, artistic, athletic or educational purposes and meet certain other specific criteria.
- you have not been a financial institution in the past five years and are in the process of liquidating your assets or reorganising with the intent to recommence operations other than as a financial institution.

If you are unsure whether you are an active or passive NFE, please get advice.

Controlling persons

Controlling persons are natural persons who exercise control over an entity.

For trusts, the settlor(s), the trustee(s), the protector(s) (if any), and the beneficiary(ies) or class(es) of beneficiaries, must always be treated as Controlling Persons of a trust, regardless of whether or not any of them exercises control over the trust for FATCA/CRS purposes.

For companies, controlling persons generally include any person who holds (directly or indirectly) more than 25% of the shares in the company and any person who has the power to influence decisions about the company's financial and operating policies, such as senior managing officials or directors.

What should a trust deed extract include?

An extract of the trust deed should include the following information:

- the full name (if any) of the trust;
- the full name of the trustee(s), and
- the full name of the settlor of the trust.

Who is a senior managing official'?

A senior managing official is an individual who makes, or participates in making, decisions that affect the whole, or a substantial part of the company, or that may significantly affect the company's financial standing.

Who is a 'beneficial owner'?

A beneficial owner is an individual who ultimately owns (directly or indirectly) 25% or more of the customer, or controls (directly or indirectly) the Customer. Control includes control as a result of, or by means of, trusts, agreements, arrangements, understandings and practices, whether or not having legal or equitable force and whether or not based on legal or equitable rights, and includes exercising control through the capacity to determine decisions about financial and operating policies.

Information that may assist you in determining your beneficial owner includes (as relevant):

- a certificate of incorporation of a company with ASIC/and or an annual statement including the amendments submitted to ASIC
- a trust deed
- a partnership agreement
- the constitution and/or certificate of information for an incorporated association, or
- the constitution of a registered co-operative.

Determining the beneficial owner of a trust

A beneficial owner of a trust may include:

- any individual shareholder who holds the legal title to 25% or more of the issued shares in the trustee;
- directors of the trustee (if they own or control the trustee)
- company secretary of the trustee (if they own or control the trustee), and/or
- any other individual who has the power to appoint or remove the trustee as the trustee of the trust.

For a nominee that has been appointed by a related body corporate to hold interests in the fund on trust, the nominee agreement may specify the beneficial owner. This may be (but is not necessarily) the person that appointed the nominee.

For a foreign company making an investment as a custodian under a single trust with multiple beneficiaries, the trust document under which the custodian is appointed may specify the beneficial owner/s.

For a foreign company making an investment acting as a custodian for multiple trusts with multiple underlying investors, each trust document with each underlying investor may specify the beneficial owner/s.

Guidance on types of trusts

You will be the trustee of a trust if you are an individual or a company that will hold interests in the fund on trust for another person or persons (known as the beneficiary). It is important to carefully consider who is the beneficiary of the trust for which you are the trustee, keeping in mind that the beneficiary may hold its interest on trust for someone else (i.e. there may be layers of trust relationships down to the underlying investor).

Trustees may include:

- Trustees of a managed investment scheme: Managed investment schemes are a type of trust. The trustee of a managed investment scheme is generally a company. If the managed investment scheme is registered with ASIC, the trustee is known as the responsible entity.
- Custodians or nominees: These are companies that provide custodial or depository services. In the context of managed investment schemes, custodians or nominees may hold interests on trust for the responsible entity of the scheme. The responsible entity for the scheme then holds interests on trust for the investors in that scheme. In the context of margin lending, a nominee may hold interests on trust for the borrower who has borrowed money from the margin lender.
- Trustees of self-managed super funds: SMSFs are a type of trust. The trustee of an SMSF may be a company or two to six individuals. If the trustee is a company, there can be one to six members (or beneficiaries) of the SMSF and each member of the SMSF must be a director of the company trustee. If the trustees are individuals, there can be two to six members (or beneficiaries) of the SMSF and each of those members must be a trustee.
- Trustees of retail super funds: Retail super funds are a type of trust. The trustee of a retail super fund is a company.
- Trustees of family trusts: The trustee of a family trust may be one or more individuals or a company or other type of entity. The trustee holds money or property for the beneficiaries of the family trust.
- Trustees of charitable trusts: Some charities are structured as trusts. Trustees of charitable trusts are commonly individuals (for example, a board of trustees) or a company. Other charities may be structured as companies or associations.
- Trustees of deceased estates and testamentary trusts: Testamentary trusts are discretionary trusts established in wills, that allow the trustees of each trust to decide, from time to time, which of the nominated beneficiaries (if any) may receive the benefit of the distributions from that trust for any given period.
