Ausbil shortlisted for Fund Manager of the year: Responsible Investment

Ausbil Investment Management (Ausbil) has been shortlisted for the Money Management 37th Annual Fund Manager of the Year Awards. The Ausbil Active Sustainable Equity Fund (Fund), managed by Nicholas Condoleon, Deputy Head of Equities, Australian Long Only and Måns Carlsson, OAM, Head of ESG, has been recognised as a finalist in the Responsible Investment category.

Condoleon and Carlsson, Co-Portfolio Managers of the Ausbil Active Sustainable Equity Fund, said they are proud to be recognised as a finalist in their category.

"This recognition for our contribution to the Australian funds management industry is a great honour," said Condoleon. "We take an empirical approach to researching and scoring Australian companies and industries on ESG performance, which can add significant value to our fundamental investment decision-making process."

"At Ausbil, we are committed to embedding sustainable principles at the core of our Active Sustainable investment strategy. Being shortlisted alongside Australia's top fund managers is a proud moment for our investment team and reinforces our conviction that sustainable investing supports long-term value creation and can lead to improved outcomes for investors," Carlsson added.

The Money Management 37th Annual Fund Manager of the Year Awards 2025 is a highly esteemed awards program that highlights the exceptional skills and talent of the industry's most distinguished professionals across Australia. As revealed in May 2025, the finalist list has more than 116 exceptional achievers across three individual and 21 group submission-based categories.

Being named a finalist is considered a remarkable achievement in the financial services sector. In a highly competitive and evolving industry, recognition at this prestigious event cannot be underestimated. With a reputation built over decades, the Money Management Fund Manager of the Year Awards program is the Australian standard for excellence for advisers, institutions, and investors.

Money Management editor Laura Dew extends her congratulations to all finalists. "Being nominated for one of these awards is a huge honour for all of our finalists, and I commend them for their excellence and wish them luck on the night."

The awards will be held in Sydney on Thursday, 26 June 2025 and further information is available at <https://www.fundmanageroftheyear.com.au>.
